Examination Programme

English Examination Preparation
At Anglo-Continental, we have a long-established reputation for preparing students for internationally recognised English language examinations that are accepted by universities, employers and professional organisations around the world.

We offer expert preparation for leading examinations, including IELTS and Cambridge English Qualifications such as B2 First. Our experienced teachers provide focused guidance to help students achieve their academic, professional and personal goals.

Our examination preparation courses develop the language skills, techniques and confidence needed for success. Lessons focus on the specific requirements of each examination, with targeted practice in reading, writing, listening and speaking. Regular timed practice tests enable students to become familiar with examination conditions, helping them build confidence and perform at their best on the day.

Examination Practice + Intensive English Courses
These courses combine intensive English language study with specialist examination preparation, enabling students to improve their overall English while working towards their chosen qualification. Students receive 20 lessons per week of intensive General English, designed to strengthen their language knowledge, fluency and communication skills. These are complemented by 10 lessons per week dedicated to examination preparation for one of the following qualifications: IELTS, Cambridge B1 Preliminary, Cambridge B2 First and Cambridge C1 Advanced.

Specialist examination lessons familiarise students with the format and assessment criteria of their chosen examination while introducing effective techniques and strategies for answering each question type with confidence.

Official Examination Centre
Anglo-Continental is an official examination centre for IELTS, Trinity ISE Digital and GESE Digital, the Occupational English Test (OET) and TEAC. We are also a venue for Cambridge Digital exams, enabling students to prepare for and take a wide range of examinations in the same familiar learning environment.

Great British Club 50+ Programme

More and more people in their fifties, sixties and beyond appreciate the attraction of a short, well-organised study programme - especially when it is combined with visiting and exploring new destinations. If you are fifty or over, this programme offers you the ideal opportunity to visit England for a stimulating and productive holiday.

Your classes

- You will study in a class where the minimum age is fifty, providing there are sufficient students at your level attending the course. In periods where we have lower student numbers, you will be taught in our General English Programme G-1.20, which has no upper age limit.
- The classroom approach is to create an informal atmosphere for purposeful learning, conducted at a pace suitable for those who may not have been in a classroom for many years.
- Our friendly and approachable teachers will make the classes interesting and enjoyable and will use modern teaching methods and materials to build your confidence in speaking English.
- Group activities will be arranged to improve your comprehension and communication skills, such as guided and free conversation practice, role play and discussion of aspects of British and international life, customs and culture.
- Learn in an international environment and make friends with people from many other countries.
- Free access to the multi-media learning centre.

Excursions, leisure activities

Outside the classroom, you will have the benefit of guided excursions to places of historical and cultural interest and of carefully arranged leisure activities. You will also have time for sightseeing and shopping on your own or with your new friends from the school.

Your accommodation

We normally provide accommodation with selected homestay families so that you will have no worries about your welfare and your meals. If you prefer to be independent, we can recommend alternative accommodation such as hotels or guest houses to meet your needs.

Programme Features

- Enjoyable English language tuition
- Relaxed conversation and discussion of current affairs and British life, customs and culture
- From Beginner to Advanced levels
- Special excursions and leisure activities
- Free access to the multi-media learning centre

Teacher Training Programme

Anglo-Continental offers teacher training courses designed to develop the professional knowledge, practical teaching skills and language awareness of teachers working with secondary and adult learners, as well as those considering a career in English language teaching.

Led by highly experienced ELT professionals, the course provides participants with the confidence, skills and up-to-date knowledge needed to succeed in today's teaching environment. Through practical workshops, collaborative learning and reflective practice, participants will explore effective approaches to language teaching while enhancing their own English language proficiency.

Course T-1.20

20 lessons per week of language teaching methodology and personal language development. Participants will experience a wide range of engaging teaching techniques designed to refresh and extend their classroom practice. The course explores current trends in English language teaching, including digital learning, learner autonomy, assessment, inclusive teaching practices and the effective use of technology in the classroom.

Recognising the growing importance of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in education, the programme includes practical sessions on AI literacy for teachers and learners. Participants will explore how AI tools can be used responsibly to support lesson planning, materials development, differentiated learning and language practice. The course encourages critical evaluation of AI-generated content and demonstrates how AI can enhance, rather than replace, effective teaching. While embracing new technologies, the course emphasises the continuing importance of Human Intelligence (HI) – the professional expertise, creativity, empathy, cultural awareness and interpersonal skills that remain at the heart of successful language teaching. Participants will consider how to combine the benefits of AI with the human qualities that foster meaningful communication, motivation and learning.

Language development activities will reflect the interests and professional needs of the group and will incorporate aspects of contemporary British life, culture and society.

Human Intelligence enhanced by Artifical Intelligence

Progress
Lessons will include a variety of activities including games, quizzes, pair and group work, which will enable the teacher to assess your son/daughter's performance on a weekly basis. IELTS Preparation Vacation Programme

At Anglo-Continental, we have a long and successful history of preparing students for English language examinations. Our IELTS Preparation Vacation Course is designed to help students achieve their best possible results in the internationally recognised International English Language Testing System (IELTS) examination.The course develops the language skills and examination techniques required for success in IELTS. Students receive focused instruction in listening, speaking, reading and writing, while also building the confidence and strategies needed to perform effectively under examination conditions. Regular timed practice tests provide valuable experience of working within the time limits of the actual examination.

Course Overview

Recognised by universities, employers and immigration authorities worldwide, IELTS assesses the English language proficiency of candidates who need to study, work or live in an English-speaking environment. The IELTS Preparation Vacation Course combines 20 lessons per week of intensive General English with 10 lessons per week dedicated specifically to IELTS preparation. Teachers familiarise students with the examination format, introduce effective techniques for tackling each section of the test, and provide personalised guidance to help students maximise their performance.

Homework

Homework is an integral part of the course and reinforces the language and examination skills developed in class, enabling students to make steady progress throughout their studies.

Excursions and Activities

Students participate in weekend excursions and may also choose to join the weekday leisure activity programme. Carefully selected excursions and social activities complement classroom learning by providing authentic opportunities to practise English, develop confidence in real-life situations, and make friends with students from around the world.

Official IELTS Examination Centre

As an official IELTS test centre, Anglo-Continental offers students the convenience of taking their IELTS examination in a familiar and supportive environment. Completing the course and sitting the examination at the school provides an ideal opportunity to achieve the English language qualification needed for future education, career and life opportunities.

Conditions of enrolment

All enrolments are subject to these Conditions of Enrolment. They become legally binding once Anglo-Continental confirms acceptance of your enrolment. Enrolments are also subject to the age limits and arrangements published in Anglo-Continental's official publications.

By enrolling, you confirm that:

- you intend to attend and complete your course at Anglo-Continental;
- you are able to participate fully in your course;
- you will comply with all applicable UK laws during your stay; and
- you will leave the United Kingdom at the end of your studies.

Anglo-Continental reserves the right, at its discretion, to refuse or withhold confirmation of an enrolment where this is considered necessary in the interests of the student or the school, or where an incorrect declaration has been made.

Fees

Course and accommodation fees apply from 1 January to 31 December each year. Fees for the following year are normally published during July or August.

All fees must be paid in full and received in Anglo-Continental's bank account no later than four weeks before your course starts. If full payment is not received by this deadline, Anglo-Continental reserves the right to cancel your course, accommodation and any other booked services without notice.

Course fees are calculated in complete weeks. Any part of a week is charged as a full week.

No course, accommodation or other services will be arranged until full payment has been received.

No compensation, fee reduction, refund, credit, additional lessons or course extension will be given for:

- services or facilities included in the fees that are not used;
- arriving late, being absent or leaving your course early without formally curtailing your course;
- lessons replaced by placement testing, class allocation procedures or the sightseeing tour provided on course entry dates;
- days when the school is closed for official public holidays; or
- cashless cards or vouchers.

Any approved refund can only be made by the Agent that originally received the payment. If no agent received the payment, then any approved refund will be made by Anglo-Continental.

Anglo-Continental reserves the right to adjust fees without prior notice if statutory taxes change.

Visas

If you require a visa, it is your responsibility to:

- apply for the correct type of visa for the full duration of your course;
- check that all details on your Anglo-Continental confirmation documents are correct before submitting your visa application; and
- maintain the correct immigration status throughout your studies.

Anglo-Continental cannot accept responsibility for errors that occur during the visa application process.

Failure to obtain or maintain the correct immigration status may result in your studies being terminated without refund or compensation.

School regulations

Anglo-Continental has published School Regulations to help courses operate safely and efficiently.

By enrolling, you agree to comply with:

- the School Regulations; and
- the laws of England and Wales.

For students under 18, this obligation also applies to the parent, guardian or other person arranging the enrolment.

The School Regulations are available online www.anglo-continental.com/schoolregs.html

14 day cooling off period

If you enrol online, you may cancel your enrolment within 14 days of submitting it.

If Anglo-Continental receives your written cancellation within this 14-day period, we will refund your course fees in full, less any bank charges.

Cancelling your course

Course bookings cannot be transferred to another person.

If you wish to cancel your course, you must notify Anglo-Continental in writing.

Conditions of enrolment (continued)

If you cancel more than four weeks before your course starts:

- your course fees will be refunded;
- any non-refundable deposit, bank charges and a £100 administration fee will be deducted.

If you cancel less than four weeks before your course starts:

- your course fees will be refunded;
- a £500 cancellation charge will be deducted;
- bank charges will be deducted; and
- any non-refundable costs for third-party services (such as hotel accommodation, flat rental or courier services) will also be deducted.

If you wish to postpone your course, please notify us in writing as soon as possible. An administration fee and any accommodation costs already incurred on your behalf may be charged. If the postponement of your course occurs less than four weeks before your course starts then any cancellation of the course will incur a £500 cancellation charge.

If your visa application is refused, Anglo-Continental will refund any published course fees paid in advance, less a £100 administration fee, provided that:

- you send us a copy of your visa refusal letter; and
- we receive it before your original course start date.

Please note that any non-refundable costs for third-party services (such as hotel accommodation, flat rental or courier services) will also be deducted.

No refund will be given if you arrive after your course has started or choose not to use any part of your course, accommodation, facilities or activities.

Curtailment of a course
(Excluding courses with reduced fees)

If you shorten a course that is more than eight weeks long after it has started, you must give the school four weeks' written notice.

If you do not give enough notice, you must pay the course fees instead of notice, together with any accommodation charges due.

In all cases, a minimum of eight weeks' course fees is payable.

If you shorten a course of eight weeks or less, no refund of course fees can be given.

Students are responsible for arranging personal insurance to cover situations where they cannot attend or continue their course for medical or compassionate reasons (see Liability and Insurance).

Change of course
(Excluding courses with reduced fees)

If, after your course has started, you wish to transfer to a course of a lower specification, you must give the school two weeks' notice.

Any change is subject to the school's approval and must take place on a scheduled entry date for the new course.

If a refund is due, it will be issued as a credit that may be used:

- towards an extension of your revised course; or
- towards another course at Anglo-Continental taken within 12 months of the end of your revised course.

This credit cannot be transferred to another person and cannot be exchanged for cash.

Incorrect declaration

Anglo-Continental reserves the right to withdraw a student from their course if:

- an incorrect declaration has been made; or
- information about the student's ability to participate in the course has not been fully or accurately disclosed before the course starts.

If a student is withdrawn for either of these reasons, no refund will be given.

English language level

Any information provided about your English language level before your arrival is for guidance only.

Your final English language level will be determined by our entry test on your first day.

If your English level does not meet the requirements of your chosen course, you will be transferred to a more suitable course.

Accommodation

The fee for the first week of homestay accommodation includes a non-refundable administration charge to cover the cost of selecting, reserving and arranging your accommodation.

If you wish to change or leave your accommodation, either on its own or because you are shortening your course, you must:

- give Anglo-Continental at least two weeks' notice before the proposed move date; and
- receive the school's approval before making any change.

If you do not give the required notice, accommodation fees will be charged in place of notice.

A charge of £80 applies for each request to change homestay accommodation.

Accommodation fees remain payable during any period of absence from your accommodation while your course is in progress.

If you do not arrive on the scheduled arrival date at your accommodation, Anglo-Continental reserves the right to cancel your accommodation booking. If this happens, we may not be able to arrange alternative accommodation.

During your course, Anglo-Continental may take photographs, video recordings and audio recordings. These may be used in, but are not limited to:

- promotional and marketing materials;
- social media;

- educational materials.

We may also use examples of your written work.

If you do not wish to be included in any photographs, recordings or the use of your written work, you must notify Anglo-Continental in writing before your course begins.

Closed-circuit television (CCTV) operates in various locations within and around Anglo-Continental's premises.

By enrolling, students and parents acknowledge that CCTV may record images in communal areas.

CCTV recordings are used for:

- safety;
- safeguarding; and
- disciplinary purposes.

Recordings are handled in accordance with the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

CCTV is not used in areas where individuals would reasonably expect privacy.

Liability and insurance

Except where required by law, Anglo-Continental accepts no liability for any loss, damage, illness or injury to any person or property, regardless of how it is caused.

Anglo-Continental is also not responsible for:

- delays to services provided by third-party companies; or
- situations where a third-party service cannot be provided as booked.

Any complaints, claims, losses or damages relating to third-party services should be made directly to the company providing that service.

Students are responsible for arranging personal insurance to cover these risks, including:

- medical expenses; and
- being unable to attend or continue a course for medical or compassionate reasons.

Transfer fuel surcharge

If a transport provider applies a fuel surcharge due to an increase in fuel prices, the additional cost will be charged to you.

Force majeure

Neither Anglo-Continental nor its Agents will be liable if they are unable to provide any contracted service because of an industrial dispute or any other event beyond their reasonable control.

Data protection

To process your enrolment and provide your course, Anglo-Continental will use the information you provide, including your personal data and details of any special requirements.

Where necessary, we will share your information with organisations involved in providing services during your stay, including, but not limited to:

- accommodation providers;
- transfer service providers; and
- other organisations involved in delivering your booked services.

Your information may also be shared with security or credit-checking organisations, Customs, the Home Office or other authorities where required by law.

If your information is held by an Anglo-Continental Agent in your home country, it will be processed in accordance with that Agent's own data protection policy and the laws of that country.

For your protection and peace of mind you should have comprehensive travel insurance, which should include any possible cancellation or curtailment charges. Such insurance may be obtained through Anglo-Continental or your own travel adviser.

Anglo-Continental is partnered with Guard.me to offer a bespoke insurance policy that is specifically designed for you while partaking on our courses. We are working together to ensure you have adequate Insurance for your course while in the UK and to provide complete peace of mind. This means you'll have cover to recoup your costs if you have to cancel your course for an insured reason such as illness or serious accident preventing you from travelling.
