The City: Bologna

Bologna, the capital of the Emilia-Romagna region, is a city steeped in history and culture. It is the birthplace of the oldest university in the western hemisphere,

Surrounded by green hills, the city conceals countless artistic and architectural treasures in the shade of its towers and porticoes. It is one of the most amazing urban centres and rarely are citizens as proud of their hometown as the Bolognese.

The old town centre is extensive, well-preserved, and rich in reminders of the many civilisations that have lived here over the ages.

The urban structure was defined by the Romans. The medieval street system, that extends from the city centre like the spokes of a wheel, was laid down by the Longobards. Numerous convents bear witness to the bygone power of the Popes and the impressive Jewish ghetto, still intact today, is also movingly reminiscent of that period.

Another fine feature of the town is its picturesque red brick towers. In the past there were over 200 towers, each demonstrating the power of the important families who built them. Two of the finest examples, the Asinelli Tower and the unfinished Garisenda Tower, have now become a symbol of the city.

But what really distinguishes Bologna's urban character are its porticoes. No other city in the world can boast a monumental procession of arcades that stretches, almost without interruption, for over thirty five kilometres.

Bologna is also an important gastronomic centre. Its inhabitants regard preparing and savouring food, not as a mere necessity, but as a refined art where new and classic flavours are blended with skill and passion.

The School: ALCE

Established at the end of 1999, with the simple goal of providing student with a comprehensive educational and cultural experience, within a friendly and encouraging environment, we opened the door to our first foreign students the following October 2000, so have almost two decades of operations.

Each year we welcome students from all over the world and our wide range of Italian courses (general language, preparation for Exams, business and professional) is designed to meet their every need. Our teaching is sophisticated and uses multimedia technology, but one thing has never and will never change: our insistence on high standards and the same warm welcome we gave to those first ever students.

We work constantly to guarantee these standards and to maintain the quality on which our reputation is founded. By studying Italian in Italy you will learn the language far more effectively and quickly than you could at home. You will also have the chance to experience the Italian lifestyle, make new friends from around the world and develop your understanding of our increasingly inter-cultural world.

ALCE brings all of these experiences together in educational programmes that are proven, effective and stimulating. We are, and will always be, a traditional institution where you will be treated as an individual, not as a number, and where teachers and staff respect your commitment to your education and take pride in your achievements. We look forward to welcoming you in Bologna!

We are well recognised both within Italy and internationally as a first class language school and we are the only school in Bologna and Emilia Region which can boast the following accreditations:

The Teachers

We are proud to be a school committed to academic excellence. Our teachers are all native speakers who hold degree qualifications and a recognized language teaching diploma or certificate (DITALS, CEDILS, Master ITALS). They all have an average of 11-12 years of teaching experience. This is what allow us to guarantee a high standard of tuition.

Our teachers are used to different learning styles and are well aware of the need for flexible teaching methods, especially with classes of mixed age, nationality and motivation. Improving a student's communication skills involves working on linguistic goals and socio-cultural adaptation, developing learning and communication strategies, emphasizing sentence coherence and cohesion, and focusing on the meaning first, then the structure. We encourage our students to avoid simply imitating structures and to express themselves through their own linguistic creativity. Our teachers regularly attend teaching refresher programmes organised by our academic coordinator, who also supervises the tests we use to chart our students progress during the courses.
