

BLS Passion for Horses course

Passionate about horses, horse racing and the wonderful animal itself? This course is for lovers of the horse keen to improve their English. The focus of the daily English lessons will be on vocabulary and fluency exercises connected to the subject of the horse. You will visit the brand new world-class National Heritage Centre for Horseracing and Sporting Art in Newmarket - the historic home of the 'sport of kings'. You will be taken to the newly re-opened racing palace of King Charles II which includes: a national Gallery of British Sporting Art with loans from private and public collections across the UK including Tate Britain. The new National Horseracing Museum uses the latest visual technology to tell the story of horseracing from its earliest origins to the present day and the science behind the thoroughbred. Watch live displays of successfully retrained racehorses in the arena and ride a winner on the racehorse simulator in the Kings Yard. You will also tour the training grounds run by Jockey Club Estates where the world's finest racehorses are trained and visit the National Stud to be introduced to its breeding programmes. Enjoy a day at the races? An afternoon of horse riding? These will be options. BLS Passion for Horses course - for a mature adult market.
