JUNIOR PROGRAMMES

CEC has been a leader in the field of English language and activity programmes for teenagers since 1978. We recognise the joint importance of classroom-based language lessons and the opportunity to use this language in a range of fun leisure activities. Our Junior courses therefore combine interactive English language lessons with a range of social, cultural and leisure activities. This means that we can ensure that students on our programmes have countless real-life opportunities to use the language that they have learned on the course.

Students are placed in multi-national classes with students of a similar level following assessment of their English level on their first day, and enjoy 15 hours of language classes from Monday to Friday in class sizes averaging 10-12 students (maximum 15 students). The focus is on effective communication and improving speaking ability. The emphasis on communicative tasks supported by vocabulary and grammar work in the classroom gives students the confidence to use this language when speaking with fellow students, teaching and activity staff, and host families outside of the classroom. These interactive lessons are taught by energetic native English speaking teachers who are fully qualified in teaching English as a foreign language. We offer a range of activities to suit all interests, and these activities are led by trained activity leaders who encourage students to use English at all times.

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAMMES

CEC offers a high school programme for young learners who wish to improve their skills by attending a secondary school in Ireland. This programme offers students the unique opportunity to experience the educational system in Ireland while at the same time improving their own language ability. The programme is ideal for students who would like to study at third level in an English-speaking country after finishing their secondary school education or who intend to take up studies through the medium of English in their own country.

CEC works with a number of partner secondary schools in Cork City and suburbs. The partner schools we use have been carefully selected based on their performance as educational institutes and on the excellent results which their students consistently obtain in the final school-leaving examination. The percentage of students from these schools who go on to study at third level institutes is very high, averaging 80 to 90% of school leavers from any one year.

CEC offers the programme in both day schools and boarding schools to young learners of a school-going age between 13 and 18 years. Most students attend 4th year, also called Transition Year, but we also offer places in other years. While on this programme and attending a day school, students are placed with a longstanding host family.

This programme includes:

- Selection of secondary schools
- Full-Board Accommodation with an Irish Host Family or boarding school
- Enrolment Fees
- Full School Uniform where required (full academic year programme only)
- All books and pedagogical material (full academic year programme only)
- Transfers between Cork Airport and the host family
- Processing of all necessary documents
- Full Supervision (Academic and Family)
- Public Liability Insurance

WINTER PROGRAMMES

Project-based Mini-Stay courses are aimed at secondary school students who are studying English in their home country and who wish to further improve their English, specifically their speaking skills, while also gaining an understanding of the culture of an English speaking country.

Prior to arrival in Ireland, students are assigned or choose an appropriate topic area and work in small groups to research and prepare information on this topic concerning their own country. They also consider how things may be different in Ireland. During the course in Cork English College, the students continue their research project researching their topic area in Ireland.

Throughout the stay, students are encouraged to explore and consider the differences between life in their own country and life in Ireland by researching their topic area and preparing a mini-presentation for the end of the course, in which they compare aspects of Irish life and culture with life in their home country. Throughout the course, the lessons are topic -based, allowing the teacher to review major areas of vocabulary while also reviewing basic language points. The focus is on providing as much communication practice as possible, therefore listening and speaking are heavily emphasised. The Ministay programme uses task-based learning as the basis of lessons. These tasks encourage learners to negotiate and work together in English to achieve an appropriate outcome using the necessary language. Language useful for presentations, such as organising points and presenting facts and figures and trends clearly are also focussed on to help with the final presentation. Class content can be tailored to include topics and language areas of specific interest to the students in the group.
